Join GE Global Research Stanford alumni for a discussion on technology and career opportunities for researchers at GE.

Friday, March 5, 2010

Gary Leonard, PhD
Stanford 1982 Alumni, M.E.
“Solve the World’s Toughest Challenges at GE”

Arti Gopinath, PhD
Stanford 2007 Alumni, A/A
“Wind Aero: Computations & Concepts”

Brian Mitchell, PhD
Stanford 1995 Alumni, M.E.
“Computational Fluid Dynamics at GE”

Learn about new technology breakthroughs GE is working on in energy, aviation, oil & gas and transportation to solve the world’s toughest problems and create a better world.

Graduate students will have an opportunity to gain a better understanding of an industry research career path and the wealth of opportunities that GE Global Research offers to impact major industries and work on projects that improve people’s lives. GE recruits doctoral candidates in engineering and natural science fields.

Location:
Y2E2 Building, Conference Room #299, 2nd Floor, Red Atrium

Audience:
Open to Stanford Doctorial and Post-Doctorial candidates in engineering/science

Date:
March 5, 2010 from 12 p.m to 1 p.m.

Lunch will be provided. There will be ample time for Q&A, networking, and job opportunity discussions. Seating limited to 45, so RSVP to maxlym@stanford.edu by Wednesday, March 3